THE BLUE CHEER ON SPIRIT DAY

Showing off our school spirit to the oncoming parade..

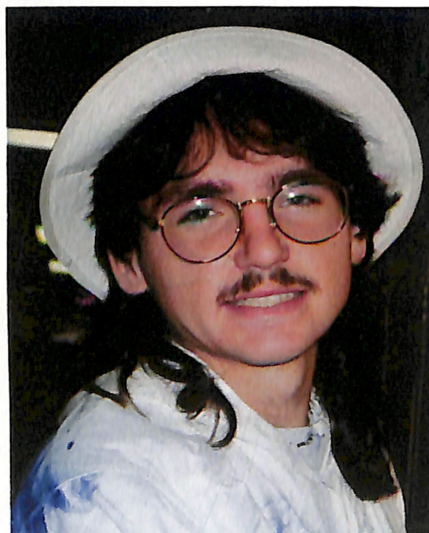

Melissa Dennis, Stephanie Adams, Carrie Bruner

Eager Bombers support our senior and junior football teams despite the rainy weather.

Ian Nickels takes time to show off his Bomber face before attending the pep rally.

Mr. Burrowes and Leonard Johnson participate in the homeroom challenges.

Andrea Eagleson, Rita Beavais, Trina Papps, Jodi DeRooy, Debra Strickland, Mareike Van Zieits, Megan McVicar

Dressed like a true Blue Bomber showing true BLUE spirit.

Bomber fans await the beginning of our annual Homecoming parade..

The rain didn't dampen our spirits at this year's Homecoming events. Starting with face painting by the GAA and a high-energy pep rally, SCITS students and fans showed their true blue and white colours. The rally was followed by a colourful parade to Norm Perry Park, where our football teams took on St.Pat's. The junior team battled to a 14-1 victory, while the senior team lost 0-35. The whole day was topped off with an awesome dance. Way to go Blue!

FRIENDS FOREVER

My Light of Hope

When I am homesick and alone, it's often how I feel.
So far away from friends and home that none of them seem real.
There is one sure thing that lifts me up and makes it all O.K.
The thoughts of you and all your strength will help me through each day.
Your courage and your loving ways show me it's not so bad.
And then I think of funny times that make me very glad.
So glad that someone so special as you is my close friend.
A friend who I can think of and write happy thoughts to and.
Today I felt real lonely and I thought I'd write it down.
So I could let you know just how you help me lose my frown.
All I do is think of how your strength will pull you through.
And that shows me that I am strong and I can make it too!
It's not so bad, I start to think, I'll be home soon enough.
And just like you I realize that I am pretty tough.
You help me see that light of hope in everything
I do.
And I believe that you are strong, my light of hope is you!!!

We Love You Janette!

IN MEMORY OF JANETTE

On January 27, 1975, a child filled with love, hope, courage and happiness was brought into the world. On September 11, 1992 this young woman made her final exit.

Janette Elizabeth McInnis touched many lives throughout her short but fulfilled life. She excelled in both academic and athletic areas. She was an honour student in her grade 9, 10 and 11 years. However, Janette's first and foremost love was on the ice. Through figure skating, her name became known as a sure to be champion. In 1985 Janette, along with her partner Jon Webster, received a bronze in W.O.S. Championships (Pre-novice pairs) and in 1986, they won the gold. Janette's hard work began to pay off in 1988. Along with partner Mazin Thomas, she won the gold at the W.O.S. Divisional Championships and competed in the Canadian Nationals where they came in twelfth. In 1989, Janette won the gold in the Senior Ladies Interclub Provincial Championships. In 1990, Janette trained at the national seminar in Calgary, Alberta where she won the title of Junior Competitive Ladies Champion and advanced to the Central Canadian Divisional Championships. In 1991, Janette moved to Barrie to train at the National Training Centre. She became the Junior Ladies Champion, won the silver at Sectionals and also won a silver along with partner Jeremy Kish and advanced to the Canadian Nationals. However, Janette never skated in this competition due to a broken back. During Janette's skating career, she earned her gold freeskate, gold dances, Seventh Figure, Junior Competitive Pairs Test and Junior Competitive Singles Test. Skating also allowed Janette to travel from the Atlantic to the Pacific Oceans to skate. It also allowed her to perform with Brian Orser, Kurt Browning, Kristi Yamaguchi and Elvis Stojko in various ice shows. However, Janette was also a gymnast, a soccer player, involved in track and received her National Lifeguard Award.

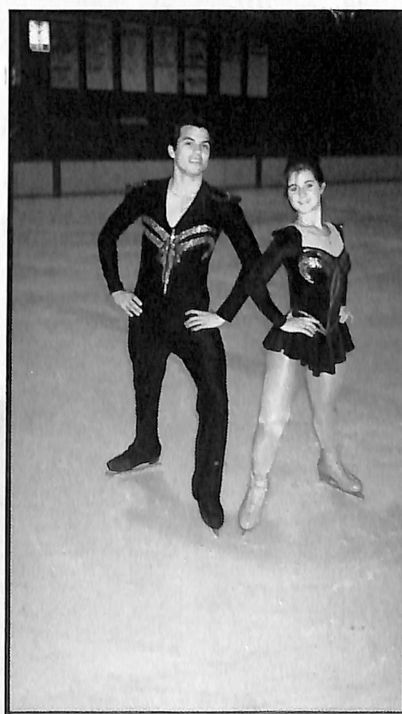

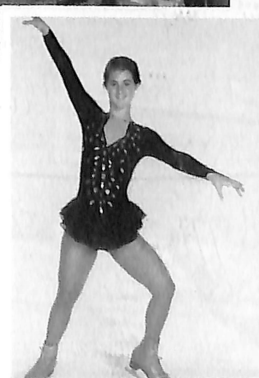

On January 29, 1992 Janette was faced with the devastating diagnosis of Rhabdomyosarcoma--cancer of the connective tissue--specifically on the skeletal muscle. Janette viewed this information as another personal challenge that she was determined to beat. Janette had an extraordinary sense of humour and positive outlook on life. She fought right up until the end; she never once gave up hope and never let anyone else.

Janette taught her friends, family, neighbours, fellow athletes and coaches, the true meaning of courage, faith, friendship, love and hope. Although Janette may be gone; she will always be loved and her spirit will live on through the loved ones she left behind.

PARTNERS ACTIVE IN RESOURCE SHARING

On with the show

Having a good selection of music for a concert goes a long way in a concert. The Groove Merchants drummer Andy McMullen, 17, takes time to organize his song sheets prior to a presentation at the Dow People Place, Monday. The presentation was made as part of the Sarnia community services department Waterfront Program which attracted a healthy size crowd. The Groove Merchants is the name used by SCITS stage band.

Taking a "soak" in a bathtub slowly filling with pennies is Don Wheeler student council prime minister at Sarnia Collegiate Institute and Technical School, while principal Don Hunter administers a shower of coins. The school is looking to collect one million pennies, totalling $10,000 in the tub for eight charitable causes including AIDS research and food for the hungry. Some money will also go to a scholarship fund.

MARIEKE VAN ZEYTS, 18, centre, will spend the next year living in Corunna as part of the Youth for Understanding Canada international exchange program. With them are Fred Strickland, and Debra Strickland, two members of the host family. A total of eight students will be living in Lambton County this year as part of the co-operative exchange between YFU and Southwestern Ontario District Optimists.

Boxing greats

Two boxers from the Lambton-St. Clair Athletic Club received special awards for their performances during an amateur boxing card earlier this week at the ECWU Hall. Jeremy Molitor, left, won the Al Rosaasen Memorial Award as the most outstanding boxer of the day. He fought in the 106 pound class winning a 12-3 decision. Neil Riley was judged to have the best bout of the day as he scored a 17-12 decision in the 130 pound weight class.

BLUE BOMBER WELCOME WEEK

Welcome Week was enjoyed by all grades from nine through twelve. During the first full week of school all of the grade nine homerooms participated in the annual S.C.I.&T.S. Welcome Week. There were many fun and exciting events, including String Me Along, Nose to Nose, The Obstacle Course and a new challenge, Pie in the Eye. Aaron VanGaver

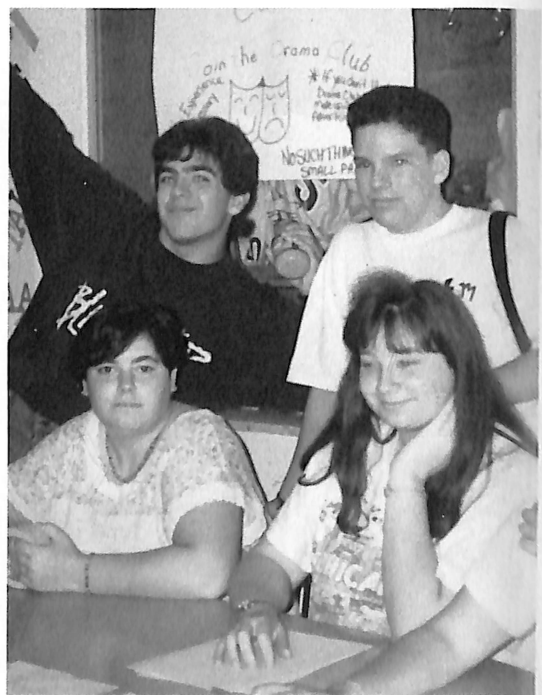

'Lets take it outside!' - Cristina Antoniou and Carolyn Nichol argue over which Welcome Week activity was the most fun.

The traditional penny pushing event was well received by the Grade nines. This year safety precautions were taken, with nose protectors given to all the participants. No nose burn this year!

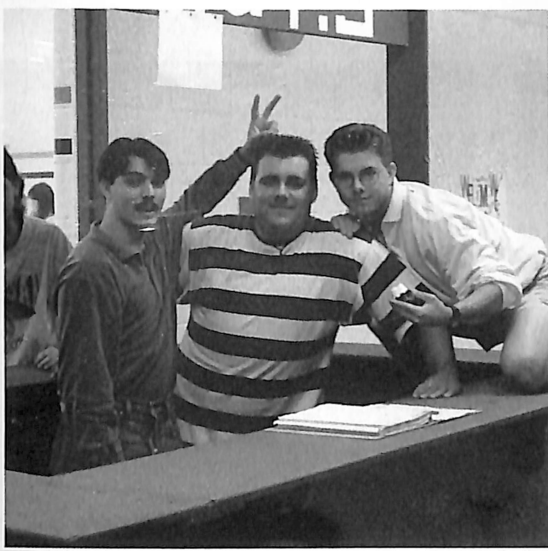

A new event introduced this year was 'Pie in the Eye'. Seniors had the opportunity to purchase shots at their choice of Grade nines. Even Mr. Allen got into the act!

Bomber fans in the stands cheered on the Grade nine homerooms as they participated in the Nose to Nose Relay

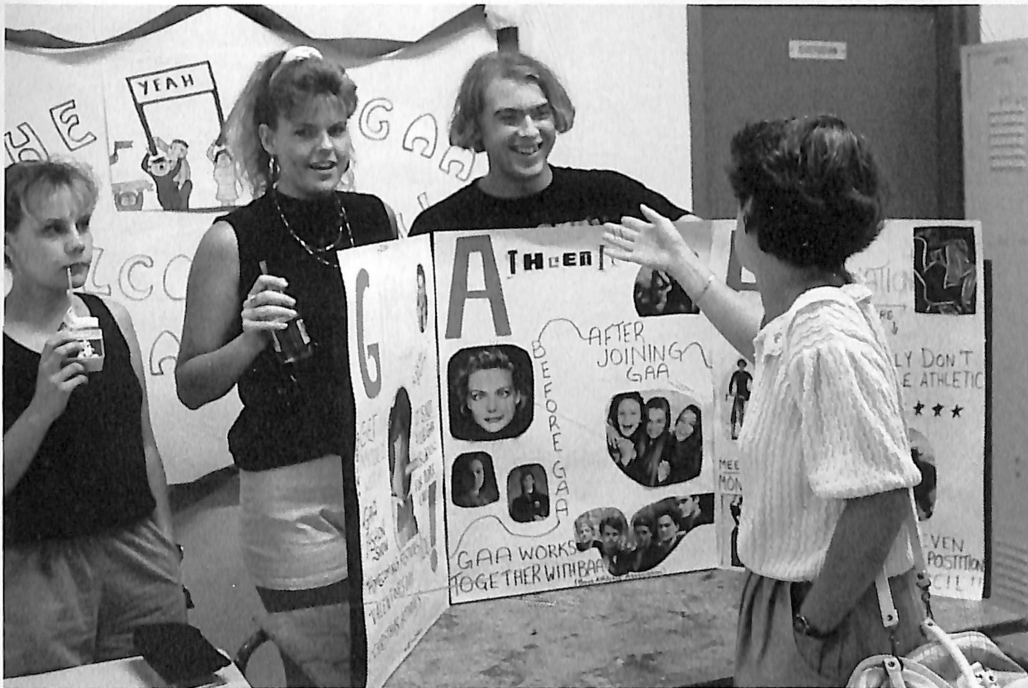

The S.C.I.&T.S. Drama and Music departments wait anxiously for new members to sign up on Club Day.

Once again our ever present student leader, Don Wheeler, shows up in yet another yearbook photo. This time with Jeremy Bartelen and Drew Bestard, who manned the B.A.A. booth at Club Day.

Mrs. Carson is shown directing Ged Churcher to the B.A.A. booth. 'G' stands for GIRLS not GED!

Really it only costs two dollars. You can humiliate your favourite Grade nine with a 'Pie in the Eye'. Just ask Heather O'Leary.

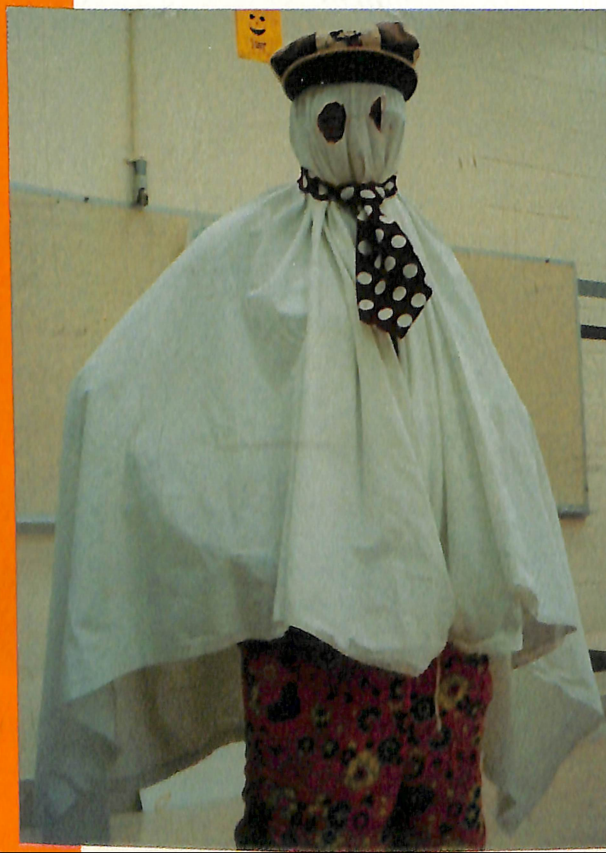

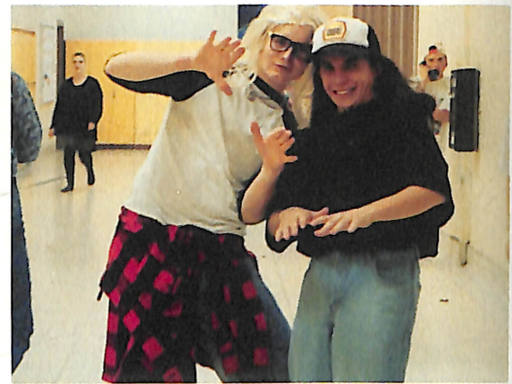

Kelly Ferguson appears very happy not to be in Grade nine again, as she supervises a Grade nine homeroom play 'String me Along'. Watch out for string burn!

Up close and personal. The fine art of penny pushing.

HALLOWE'EN BOMBER STYLE

COMMENCEMENT

Commencement does not simply mean graduation. It means "the beginning", a new beginning in the first day of the rest of our lives.

Everything I learned, I learned in kindergarten — or so I thought. We all began our education, some more reluctantly than others, armed with the belief that we were prepared for anything. After all, our parents had taught us to watch out for traffic, to play fair, to share, to put things back where you found them, to hold hands and stick together when you are afraid. That guidance, given in love and nurtured through years of caring support, holds, as true today as it did in kindergarten.

Everyone here, certainly the graduates, can likely remember their first day of high school, another beginning. I marvel at how quickly five years have passed. Most of us were so nervous, trying not to be noticed as "minor niners" and just trying to survive Welcome Week. Though many of us had been a part of numerous extra-curricular activities in elementary school, our biggest concern was doing well in academics. Our parents expected it and we wanted that measurable success for ourselves.

From the moment we entered grade nine, we were given the opportunity to experience many new facets of life. However, we did not neglect the responsibility we had to ourselves, our parents and to our teachers to acquire the skills and knowledge needed for a good education. Not every day was a success story, but there was learning in that as well. Our responsibility extended beyond ourselves to our homerooms, especially for homeroom challenges; to our school teams that required commitment of time and energy; to our school clubs and organizations that could not have continued without so many people being the best they could be for a group they believed in.

There was participation through responsibility within the larger school community. Events like the S.C.I.T.S. Revue, Homecoming, the Senior Prom, the Fashion Show and many other organized events could not have happened without great student involvement and teacher co-ordination.

The S.C.I.T.S. Community extends beyond these walls, working with local industry, exchanging human and physical resources for mutual benefit. Polysar, especially, has provided S.C.I.T.S. students with the P.A.I.R.S. program including its F.I.N.E., F.A.M.E. and CO-OP opportunities. S.C.I.T.S. rose to the community challenge many times, whether it was through Operation Christmas Tree, raising funds for the United Way or involving seniors at Vision Nursing Home during Fitness Week. S.C.I.T.S. students can bask in the pride of their sense of community in the "Greening of S.C.I.T.S.", a showcase for responsible community caring for a local and global cause.

With all the activities that went on a S.C.I.T.S., it was impossible to not become resourceful. The S.C.I.T.S. Revue, the work of so many creative individuals under the capable direction of people like Mr. Hall and Mr. Burrowes, taught us many things, like who looks best in pink. You remember, the fellow with those loving heart snaps. Homeroom challenges motivated us all to bigger and better things. We learned how to creatively stick a human fly on the wall and how to trudge through Lambton's worst snow and ice storm to win the canned food drive.

A wealth of creative talent from S.C.I.T.S. students could be found displayed almost anywhere: at the science fair, in the stage band or at Gallery Lambton during the student art exhibition.

We learned about community-minded resourcefulness through the recycling program and Pitch-in Week when some of us went to Canatara Park to pick up garbage. I've carried that learning on to university where everything imaginable is recycled, including our clothes when we don't have time to do the laundry.

Of course, we have come to the realization that high school has much more than academics. It is about friendships, bonding, caring and sharing. We all need friends to talk to, laugh with or to understand the tears. Friends are also fun to play jokes on. I won't soon forget that famous S.C.I.T.S. alumnus, Ben Dover. The bond that has held many of us together here tonight is the bond of shared values, goals and experiences based on mutual respect, understanding and loyalty. It is a bond not easily broken with time.

We have come to realize the enormous influence our teachers have had on us. They have not only been educators, but counsellors, coaches, role models and friends. They have created opportunities for us to reach our potential and go beyond. They have assured us, both men and women, of equal opportunities, not to become equal, but realize our own uniqueness of body, mind and spirit.

Thank you, all teachers for your behind the scenes organization; for your leadership; for your infusion of school spirit; for your guidance; for your vision; and for everything we learned about life and for life.

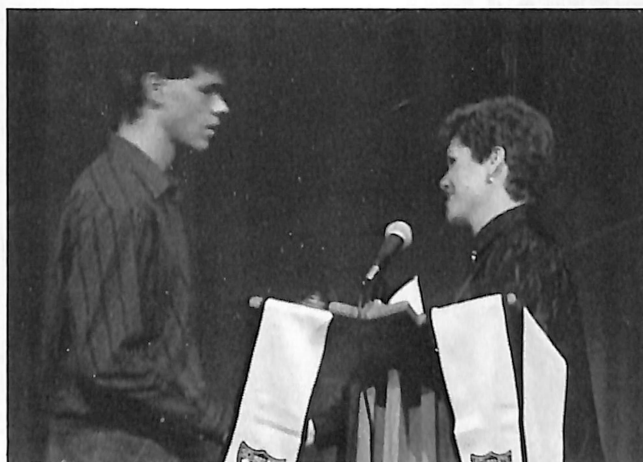

Today is a new beginning — commencement — as we head into an ever-changing world, the same new world Christopher Columbus set sail for 500 years ago this year. We gather the skills, knowledge and resourcefulness with us as we take our friends by the hand and stick together — just like I learned in kindergarten. Then we enthusiastically say, "GO BLUE IN '92!" and for many years to come.

AD ASTRA 1992-93.

This year's best feature is the colour grad section. Extra time, effort and organization were put in by the grad committee to make sure everyone got a chance to have their grad photo taken. So for this year's grads, I hope you enjoy the grad section. Again this year, 10 more pages were added to the yearbook including a new section of colour pages. I would like to thank all who help with photography, grad section, mug section and layout design. A special thanks to Mrs. Girard who was an active helpful advisor right up to the day before Danielle was born. Next year we can only look forward to bigger and better things in AD ASTRA 1993-94.

PENNIES FOR GIVING!

Our Student Council organized a project called "Pennies for Giving", an idea based on a similar program on Manitoulin Island for raising funds for Dauphine Smith's God-daughter who was suffering from brain cancer. Councils' hopes to collect one million pennies and make donations to the charitable agencies in Sarnia. In addition, they will make a contribution to the "Janette McInnis Memorial Fund that is of special interest to our school. Student Council appreciates the assistance from Polysar Rubber Corp. and the Fragis Physiotherapy Clinic for setting up collection points at their worksites.

Also, a big Thank You! to the Royal Bank and our own G.A.A., B.A.A. and Cheerleaders for their contributions.

DEBATING CLUB

To give some significance to Canada's 125th Anniversary, the Canadian Government re-introduced to Voyageurs program. Sarnia-Lambton was paired with Charlottetown, PEI and 125 students from each riding were eligible to make an exchange visit. On Sept. 16, 1992, nine students from Colonel Gray High School in downtown Charlottetown arrived in Sarnia and were billeted with nine SCITS students. One week was spent travelling around Sarnia-Lambton and Southwestern Ontario. The nine SCITS students and their and their supervisor - Lynn Green, Jenn LeClair, Chris Hutton, Brent Parr, Lareina Rising, Emmanuel Ronchin, Nicole Ronchin, Jason Wilson, Mark Wilson and Jim Capes - returned to PEI on October 20 and enjoyed an informative visit. It was discovered that people across Canada do indeed have much in common.

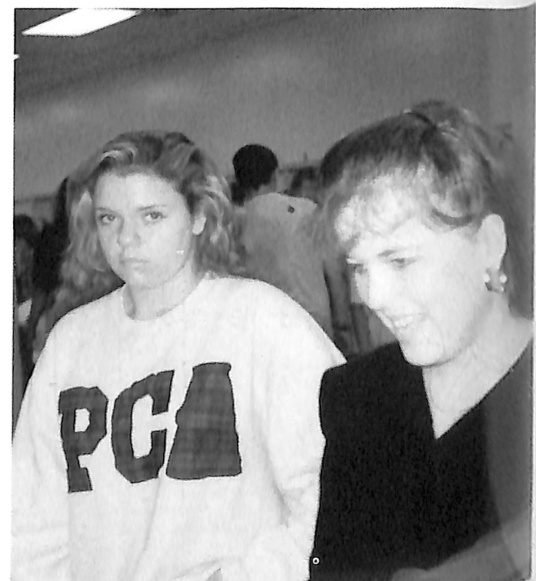

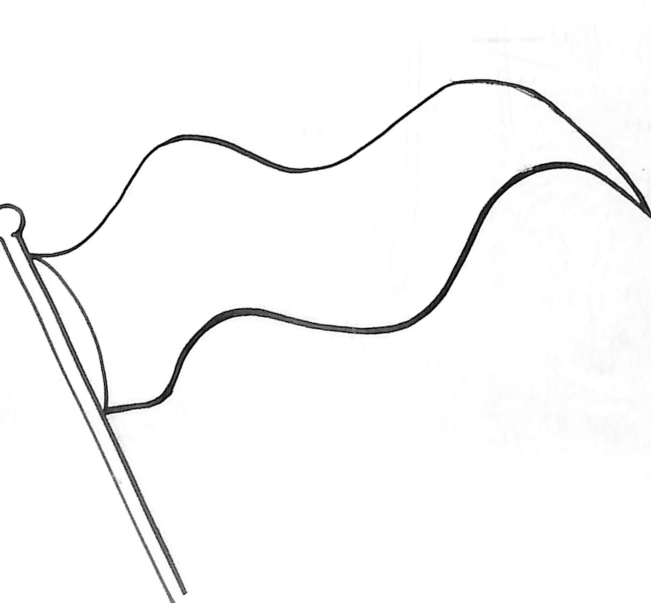

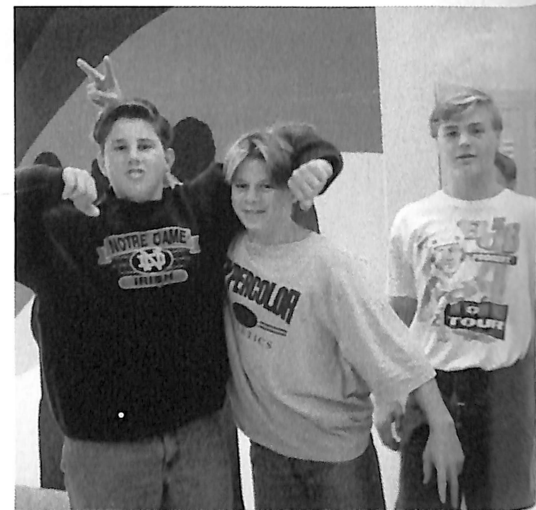

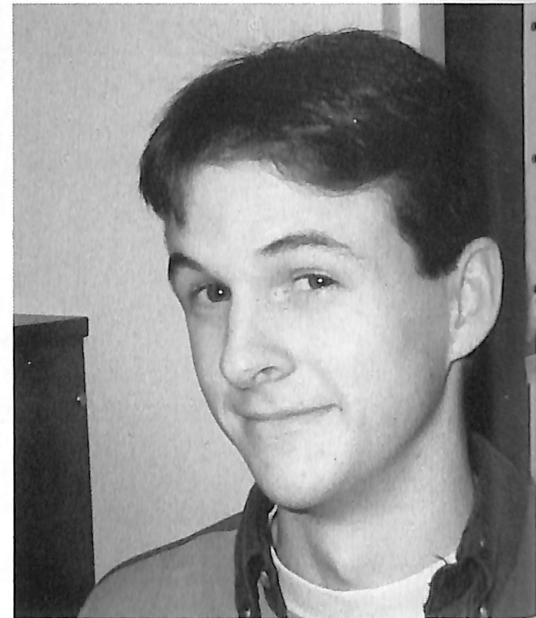

1. Cindy Burke (PEI) & Lynn Green say goodbye at Sarnia Airport as the PEI students return home to prepare for SCITS's visit.
2. Chris Hutton and twin Andrew Kinnear watch the Blue Jays on their way towards the championship.
3. Back to Front: Chris Hutton, Neal Bawson, Nicole Ronchin, Emmanuel Ronchin, Andrew Collop & Lareina Rising cruising the St. Clair River on the Duc d'Orleans.

SENIOR

In Senior Cheerleading, this year I feel we accomplished quite a lot. We attended camp again in the summer and qualified for a competition. We also won many ribbons at this camp. Our team also participated in community kickoffs such as Heart & Stroke Foundation and the Cancer Society. With the help of our fundraisers, we were able to donate money to charities. Like every year, we cheered for football games and had very successful pep rallies. This year was very important for me because it is my last year and I wanted to make it a good one. Cheerleading helps build self-motivation and self-confidence. Hopefully future cheerleaders will feel the same way with the help of a great coach, Mr. Fillion, to guide them.

Track and Field

I'm asking you
 Because I think you know
 Don't get me wrong
 I'm not accusing you of being responsible
 But who let the dolphins loose
 To swim in my toilet bowl?
 I agree they're beautiful
 But my legs are crossed.
 I do see how they flip and dive
 And yes they seem to be gentle creatures
 But the pain is like a fist
 Squeezing my rubber bladder.
 Do you understand what I'm saying
 I'm not against saving the dolphins
 They're very beautiful
 The shiny grey dolphins
 But I must, Just must use the toilet
 I can feel the heat running down my leg
 I love the dolphins too
 But not when they're in my toilet bowl.

A PUPPET'S STRINGS

The puppetmaster in the penny-cent side-show
 Pulls your strings with a black hate
 Making your arms and legs flail the air
 To the delight of the filthy baggage in the audience
 That jeers in spite of the shame that burns
 The corners of your eyes with tears
 But the puppetmaster continues to manipulate
 Without rest for your weary limbs
 He hasn't even a slight care for your voice
 Or what your mind may speak.
 He has your strings under his control
 Your his puppet to perform
 And perform at his will you shall
 Until you snap those strings that hold you
 For now however, you are to scared to stop
 Yet nearly to drained to go on
 But the puppetmaster jerks your strings
 And you dance some more for the jackals.

MY ROOM

In this room I dwell
Or I could say live
And the light through the window
Is the dusty brown of a sundown
Which makes my eyes at ease
And I've got a hundred faces
Posted over the walls
With thoughtful gazes
And sculptured looks
And the air has the aroma

Of a sweet July night
And cigarette smoke
In these four walls
Pain does not exist
I'm at peace with myself
And I lay back in the carpet
And lose myself in happiness
For I built this room
And it is here for me.

SUCKER!

This year's edition of the Ad Astra was aided with some in depth interviews on various topics but the one closet to the staff's heart was those yummy, sometimes gooey and always loved.....SUCKERS!

Many people, who were found roaming the halls of our hallowed institution, were asked various questions as to why they love those candy on a stick inventions.

WHAT IS YOUR FAVOURITE FLAVOUR OF SUCKER?

DEFINITELY CHERRY -
Angela Tsparaillis & Krystal Romlewski

CHERRY - Julie MacRae

ORANGE - Jeanette Kennedy
GREEN - Natalie Russell

WHAT IS IT THAT MAKES THESE THINGS SO POPULAR?

They last a long time.
They get you pumped up for class.
Sugar rush (like we didn't know)

They're real cheap.
It's just a "Fad"(Mr. Yorke).

WHAT WOULD YOU DO FOR A SUCKER?!!!!!!!

Sing a Christmas carol in front of ten other people. Angela Tsparaillis

Strip down and run down the hallway screaming at the top of my lungs. Jeanette Kennedy

Sing a song on the cafeteria table in front of everyone at lunch time. Natalie Russell

Ask nicely, of course. Mr. Yorke

OTHER FUN THINGS TO DO WITH A SUCKER:

Smack a person's face with a real gooey one and make sure it gets real sticky.

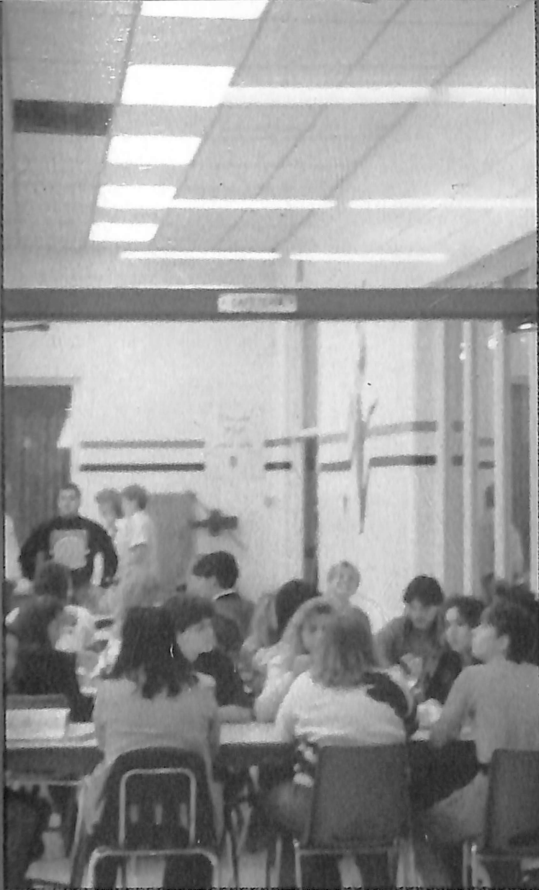

Eat it.

PEOPLE IN THE HALLS

LOSING A FAVOURITE

Last June, the SCITS community said goodbye to one of its most beloved members, Mrs. Betty Kennedy.

Her journey towards us began in 1957 when she and her late husband, Hall, emigrated from Ireland. Shortly afterwards their son Shawn was born. Teaching stints at Wilkesport, King George VI and St. Clair followed. After taking time out to give birth to their daughter Colleen, Mrs. Kennedy finally arrived at the doors of SCITS in 1968.

In her 24 years here as a very capable Geography and History teacher, her students came to know her as a caring and loving person. Their well-being was a prime concern of hers. Outside of the classroom, she was involved with such activities as intramurals, Senior Prom, The PAIRS park, the Women's Interval Home and the University Women's Club.

than ever. Summers are spent at her Stag Island cottage. Entertaining, cooking, travelling, the theatre, golf, reading and crossword puzzles are some of the activities which she enjoys.

Mrs. Kennedy says that she immensely enjoyed her years at SCITS and will remember fondly the staff and students that she came to know.

OUR TEACHERS IN ACTION

I wish to congratulate this year's yearbook staff for the excellent work done to preserve the memories of 1992-93 at our proud school.

It has been my experience that one of the most exciting times of the year occurs when we receive of Ad Astra Yearbook. It is a time to laugh, to think, to remember, perhaps to cry, and above all, to share with our friends "the way we were".

For those friends who are graduating we hope that twenty years hence, this book will bring warmth, boundless joy, and many "fond memories of things past".

May I wish you graduates much success, happiness and vision in all future endeavours.

REMEMBER: Never look down to test the ground before taking the next step. Only those who keep their eyes fixed on the far horizon will find the right road.
